

A&R Tarpaulins Inc. Creates Custom Covers for Water District Project

AR Industries a division of A&R Tarpaulins, recently completed a project for the Western Municipal Water District (WMWD). WMWD needed to meet a unique odor control requirement.

While end dump trailers were loading from solid waste dump conveyers, the wind would blow the smell into residential areas surrounding the plant.

Although WMWD had existing odor control measures on the property, the smell was still permeating through the air.

WMWD tasked A&R with creating a solution to control or lessen the smell coming from the waste dump conveyers while still maintaining a flexible construction.

With the collaboration between WMWD and A&R, two manual roll up systems using 18oz flame resistant black vinyl measuring approximately 12'W x40'L x 14'H were created.

The roll-up system also included A&R's vinyl sand snakes to further restrain any odor that may escape from the solid waste dump process.

A&R was proud to meet the client's needs by providing them with a structure that is both flexible and efficient.

Happy Holidays from the A&R Tarpaulins Inc. Family! Reflections on the Year

Happy Holidays from our family to yours. Wishing you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

During the holidays, we hope you stay warm, happy, and healthy.

Thank you for your continued support and relationship with the A&R team. We look forward to celebrating the New Year with family, friends, and loved ones.

At this time, we'd like to take a moment to reflect upon the year which had its ups and downs. We saw progress, successes, and even some difficulties. While business has picked up for most of us, we're still not out of the woods yet.

While we did see an uptick in sales and orders in 2015, we still face growing turmoil in global affairs and ultimately global economics.

What does that mean for us as we head into 2016? It means we have to be vigilant in supporting one another and helping each other not just in business, but in everything that we do.

Together, as a business community, we have a powerful voice that our policy makers can hear.

As we move forward let's work together to build a stronger, better community and workplace.

Sincerely,

The A&R Team
